Guy Pearse : Greenwash: Big Brands and Carbon Scams before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Greenwash: Big Brands and Carbon Scams:

Going green is the new black for big business. But how real is the climate-friendly revolution that's being advertised? Toyota reckons Mother Nature drives a Prius, Ford wants us to "Join the Green Revolution", and McDonald's has painted its famous golden arches green. Facebook has even 'friended' Greenpeace. But are big brands and the celebrities endorsing them really as green as they claim? In Greenwash, in the tradition of Fast Food Nation and No Logo, Guy Pearce looks behind the corporate facade; and what he finds will startle you. Nothing is sacred and no one is safe from scrutiny in this expose of carbon scams: not the Prius or the Nissan LEAF, not the World Wildlife Fund or Earth Hour, not Oprah or Leonardo DiCaprio. For consumers trying to shop the planet green, Greenwash is a wake-up call. It's also an entertaining and practical book that helps consumers to pick the truly green businesses from the greenwashers and to demand a higher environmental standard from all. Guy Pearce's welcome book reveals the difficulty of judging the benefits and real environmental costs of the way we live; David Suzuki; Guy Pearce travels the sewers of misinformation to show us exactly how, from banks to airlines, there's a growth industry in green horseshit. But, after hosing himself off, Pearce also presents us with a far more thoughtful analysis than I've read in other exposes of greenwashing; Raj Patel, author of Stuffed and Starved and the New York Times bestseller The Value of Nothing; Before I read Greenwash I thought I could no longer be shocked by the skulduggery of the marketers. How wrong I was. Read Greenwash to be reminded why advertising is called the dark art and how marketing has become the most destructive force on the planet; Clive Hamilton, author of Affluenza and Requiem for a Species; [Greenwash] contains some brilliant exposes of capital scamming the unwary consumer, giving them a green hoodwink while continuing opposite practices elsewhere; Adelaide Review; If you want to know how to pick the true greens from the fakers, this book is for you; Green Lifestyle; Guy Pearce is an author and environmental commentator. A former political adviser, lobbyist and speechwriter, he is currently a research fellow at the Global Change Institute at the University of Queensland.
